

Jackie Chamberlain, Artist/Photographer (Lee's Summit, MO)
Biography

I originally took photographs to capture scenes to paint. I paint with acrylics, in the style of realism, at a fairly detailed level. I enjoy a variety of subjects, however I have a special affinity for big cats, especially tigers.

Eventually I began taking pictures as an additional creative outlet. I have since attended workshops and lectures with well known photographers to increase my skill level. I was honored to have one of my photographs chosen for publication/print in "KC Voices", (www.kcvoices.com)

I paint and photograph things that inspire me. Thus, my art is mostly of animals, nature and Greek/Roman or Victorian inspired architecture. I photograph in color because I find the many different colors and hues in nature to be an integral part of the beauty.

I am a member and Vice President of Marketing of SummitArt.org. Some of my work can be seen on this website, and at the gift shop at St. Luke's East Hospital, in Lee's Summit, MO.
